A KICK IN THE CAREER

I've been reading MAD for six years and I also love to make cartoons. When I grow up I wanted to be a comic artist but my parents say I won't make it being one. But anyway, thanks for making MAD and helping inspire me to try and follow my dream.

John Balogh, Langhorne, PA

Johnny Be Good — If there's one kernel of truth we strive to impart on our readers every month, it is that parents just don't know jack. How many times has your mother told you that you need to put a sweater on, when in fact, you were dying from the heat? How many times have they told you that you have to wait till your 13th birthday before you run off with a motorcycle gang? How many times have they told you that 72-hour binges of heroin and Tequila are bad for your health? Like we said, they don't know jack! Readers, if you want to be a cartoonist, cocktail promoter or, God forbid, a dental hygienist, then you can be! And if your parents keep telling you no, then you should cut back on the Mother's and Father's Day cards — they'll get the message! —Ed.

ENVELOPE OF THE MONTH

Jim "Envelope of the Month Boy" Hutchings of Ontario, Canada once again comes through with, oddly enough, our Envelope of the Month, this one celebrating MAD's 50th Anniversary. For those of you who may be wondering, Jim never includes a letter, note, memo, snapshot, Post-it, or suspicious white powder — he just sends the envelope. Go figure!

PASSING IT'S A GAS

After listening to the entire Dr. Demento's 30th Anniversary Collection CD, I finally came to the conclusion that the most bizarre song on the album was Alfred E. Neuman singing "It's A Gas." Although it lacked many common elements of great music and a decent chorus, the song fulfilled my daily dose of insanity, whilst waking up my entire family everytime I blasted the album. The purpose of my letter is to ask one question: who said the words "It's a gas" in the song? I've been searching my old records and I've even asked my friends who they thought it sounded like. I'd love to know before I jam my head into the toilet bowl and pluck the individual lashes from my eyelids! Nick Megalis, N. Huntingdon, PA

Little Nicky — Before we answer your question, we have one of our own. What kind of loser uses the word "whilst"? Whilst you ponder the question — here's the answer to yours. "It's a gas" was uttered by famed composer and celebrated Metropolitan Opera star Norman Blagman! —Ed.

HAIR APPARENT

Well, this is the second month in a row that I had to look at a fat man's hairy chest! Maybe for some people it's a daily thing, but I am 14 and love reading your magazine and will buy it no matter what's on the cover. But come on, that's just plain nasty! Maybe if you put some cuter guys on your cover, more people will buy it!

Kara Marszaleh, Westland, MI

Hari Kara — Thanks for your letter. As you know, since MAD has started taking ads, there have been many changes in the magazine and its editorial direction. Due to intense pressure from the advertising department, MAD is now working to corner the market on male electrolysis candidates — a highly desirable niche area among advertisers. Be prepared for lots more hairy man-breast covers like Fat Bastard and Tony Soprano. Among the future candidates are Robin Williams and famed circus geek Carl "The Human Carpet" Flipowitz! —Ed.

NOT SO CREATIVE LICENSE

You never know where you will run into a MAD fan — hopefully it's not on the highway! Dave Lotz of Buckner, MO sent in this unique MAD license plate. We're surprised he's never been pulled over and charged with DWI (Driving While Idiotic!)

TEACHER'S PESTS

BOSTON PUBLIC

April 16, 2002

MAD Magazine
Department 413
1700 Broadway
New York, NY 10019

Dear Mr. Neuman,

We thoroughly enjoyed the January 2002 edition of your fine publication. It is high time "Boston Public" gets the media coverage it deserves. Your dedication to quality journalism is admirable.

Keep up the good work!

Sincerely,
Harry Sensitive (Nicky Katt) and
Squat Clueball (Anthony Heald)

PAST, PRESIDENT AND FUTURE

In MAD #421, the President of the Monroe Fan Club (Ken McClelland) decided to sort of step down as the President, so I figured I have nothing better to do with my time than become a dedicated leader of such a dysfunctional group. So if there are no objections, I would be happy to take the role.

Zeb Williams, Candler, NC

Zebby — Thank you for your bold initiative. Unfortunately, it is not within our powers to sanction a coup. The matter must be put forward to all MAD readers as to whether the duly elected President McClelland be ousted by the upstart Zeb Williams. Readers, send in your vote to Amy "The Big Ballot Box" c/o MAD Magazine, 1700 Broadway, New York, NY 10019. We will report the vote tally in an upcoming issue, provided we have no problems with the Florida readers' ballots! —Ed.

EATING HIS WORDS

I'm writing to you people because I have no one else to write to and this is a homework assignment I was left with, but since I didn't do it for homework, I have to sit by myself at lunch. The other reason I'm writing is to say how much I enjoy your magazine, not in a way where people get all teary and you probably find tear drops on the envelope and the letter paper, no, that's just not me. I go to a Christian school and I thank all my teachers for not getting on me for carrying your magazine from class to class every month. So, in a serious way, I thank MAD for many great years of humor and I request that you never change!

Leo Parada, Jr., San Francisco, CA

Leo the Lion — Thanks for your letter. We have one small correction, however. We've had several of the envelopes you mention scientifically tested. Turns out it wasn't tear drops on those envelopes. To which we say, ewww! Again, thanks for writing! —Ed.

P.S. This is just a hunch, but we bet one of your classmates got hold of your thermos and swapped your milk for monkey juice!

P.P.S. We also have a hunch that this is not the last time you'll eat lunch alone! Fa!

When Analyze This came out, we had to wonder if Robert DeNiro could actually get laughs (we stopped wondering the same thing about Billy Crystal long ago). But for whatever reason, the movie was a hit (we credit our spoof!), so they cranked out a sequel. However, since that first try, DeNiro's gone for laughs in Meet the Parents, The Adventures of Rocky and Bullwinkle, and Showtime. Now that he's making more comedies than all the Wayans Brothers combined, the novelty's worn off! And since this sequel's just a retread of a lame, one-joke movie, why even bother to...

Actually, you're suffering from delusional paranoia relating to celluloid recurrences!

What the %$&#**% is that?

A fear of doing sequels! There's a lot of that going around! I'm into that myself!

Yeah! I saw City Slickers III! You should be afraid, Doc! Be very afraid!

You and Dad don't exactly get along in this film!

I'm under stress! Ever since he got involved as the therapist for a mob chief, your father's been asking me to do things I'm not thrilled with!

You brought an underworld gang lord to our home as a houseguest and he brought his hooker-girlfriend here and now they're having wild sex in our house!

Someone has to! Are you saying our love life isn't good?

Let me put it this way — they have a picture of our sex life on the side of a milk carton!

Sometimes he doesn't talk to me for three days!

There's a reason for that. I don't want to interrupt her!

I'm trying to be perfectly fair here. Lori, you're right as usual! Bent, you're behaving like a total schmuck!

If I've been moody or distracted lately it's because my father died!

I understand, Bent. Do you want to talk about it?

Yes. The death of my parent was a traumatic — Your time is up! Lori?

Geez! Now I know how you got that name!

Congratulations, Potty! In all my years in gangsterdom I've never seen a woman mob boss!

You got a %$&#*% problem with that?

Nah! Today a woman can be anything she wants! With your smarts you could be a United States Senator or a corporate CEO!

To tell you the truth, d#$%-head, I wanted to get into a field with less criminal activity!

Hey, putzhead! Look at these features: the tinted windows, the bullet-proof doors and the trunk space...it can comfortably hold three dead bodies!

There are no bodies!

There will be if you don't buy this car!

We have this diamond ring for $22,000!

That's a bit steep! I'd like to think it over!

While you're thinking, we have this matching set of brass knuckles in a Tiffany setting! One goes on her hand, the other goes in your face!

What does this ink blot look like to you?

It looks like Clemenza sitting in an olive oil company! What does it look like to you?

It looks like Meg Ryan faking an orgasm in a deli!

What does it all mean, Doc?

It means we're both nostalgic for the great roles we'll probably never see again!

They Don't Know!
(Sung to the tune of "Let It Snow!
Let It Snow! Let It Snow!")

There's a dirty bomb lab in Frisco
That'll turn your brain to Crisco!
Ask the FBI if it's so —
They don't know! They don't know! They don't know!

There's an army camp near Seattle
Where they're training chimps for battle!
Ask the Pentagon if it's so —
They don't know! They don't know! They don't know!

Ev'ry week an alert we get —
Some are red, others yellow or green;
Though we've asked, no one's told us yet
What in the hell do they mean!

There's a rumor that sounds real zany
That we plan to clone Dick Cheney!
Ask the CIA if it's so —

Somewhere in the Mid-East Hinterland

(Sung to the tune of "Winter Wonderland")

Hey, for sure...he's a sickie,
But the rat's...mighty tricky —
Osama, no doubt,
Is still hiding out
Somewhere in the Mid-East hinterland.

How we bragged...that we'd trap him,
Try his ass...or else zap him —
We wound up with zip:
He gave us the slip
Somewhere in the Mid-East hinterland.

Where's that slimy Saudi? Hey, don't ask us;
Better use a Ouija board instead;
Might be dealing hashish in Damascus —
Hopefully, the SOB is dead!

It's too bad...we can't boast now.
To the world...that he's toast now —
'Cause deep down we know,
The pig's laying low
Somewhere in the Mid-East hinterland.

ail these symbols of our nation!
Moo-la, la, la, la — la, la, la, la!

Yuk! The Talking Heads Spout On

(Sung to the tune of "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing")

Yuk! The talking heads spout on —
Morning, evening, dusk till dawn;
Shields is giving Novak hel-l —
Soon we're reaching for DiGel;
Bill O'Reilly's in a squabble
With some envoy back from Kabul;
Hanni-ty spews right-wing crap;
Colmes bumbles on...with left-wing pap;
Yuk! The air they all pollute —
Lucky for us...we've got a mute!

Yuk! The talking heads blab on —
Greta's dissing Paula Zahn;
Donahue spouts off until —
We've all had our fill of Phil;
Ollie North keeps salivating;
Newt drones on, pontificating;
Yuk! They're way beyond all hope —
Best turn 'em off and watch a soap.

At Noon I Got to the Airport, Dear

(Sung to the tune of
"It Came Upon the Midnight Clear")

At noon I got to the airport, dear,
With more than three hou-rs to spare;
I made my way to se-curi-ty
My suit-case packed with great care.
They scanned my body — a buzz was heard,
And very much to my surprise,
They shoved me into an airtight room —
My guards...were two armed GI's.

They stripped me down to my boxer shorts,
(I soon had to shed them as well);
They sicked two Dobermans on-to me
My pri-vate parts they did smell.
They searched my suitcase for con-tra-band,
And dumped all my toiletries out;
They confiscated my Desenex —
One said... "It's anthrax, no doubt!"

They threw me into a dungeon cell,
The leg irons cramping my style;
They fed me slop, though I must admit
It beat airline food by a mile.
Five weeks I suffered, but now I'm free,
Just thankful that I am alive;
I've learned my lesson and that is why —
I think...next Christmas I'll drive.

Abu Rauf May Be in Your Town

(Sung to the tune of "Santa Claus is Coming to Town")

You better take care
Like never before!
You better check out
That neighbor next door!
Abu Rauf may be in your town!

He doesn't chase girls
Or drink at a pub;
He won't try to join
The Rotary Club!
Abu Rauf may be in your town!

He meets his Arab buddies;
They're members of his cell
They're chanting oaths and hatching plots
That can blow us all to hell!

He'll soon wish us all
A final goodbye
If ever he gets
A license to fly —
Abu Rauf may be in your town!

Duke Bissell's TALES OF UNDISPUTED INTEREST

WHILE COMING HOME LATE ONE NIGHT, I FOUND MY NEIGHBOR DEAD IN THE HALL.

HE LOOKED FINE THIS MORNING.

SO I GOT ON THE HORN TO THE POLICE RIGHT AWAY.

HELLO POLICE? I DIDN'T DO IT!

BUT IN THE END THERE WAS AN UNFORTUNATE MIX UP.

YOU'RE GETTING OFF EASY WITH THE DEATH PENALTY. I HAVE TO SPEND EVERY DAY TILL RETIREMENT WITH LOSERS LIKE YOU.

WHO'S GOING TO TAKE CARE OF MY STAMP COLLECTION?

I HAD ALMOST GIVEN UP HOPE WHEN THE GOVERNOR CALLED.

IT'S THE GOVERNOR CALLING WITH A PARDON. YOU'RE LUCKY I HAVE CALL WAITING, WE WERE JUST ORDERING CHINESE TAKE-OUT FROM WONG PALACE.

GEE—CHINESE TAKE-OUT FOR MY LAST MEAL, I NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT, MAYBE NEXT TIME.

WHEN I GOT BACK TO MY APARTMENT IT HAD ALREADY BEEN RENTED.

I THOUGHT YOU WERE DEAD!

FAKING MY DEATH AND PINNING IT ON YOU WAS THE ONLY WAY I COULD GET YOU OUT OF THE WAY SO I COULD GET YOUR APARTMENT. YOU KNOW IT HAS A MUCH BETTER VIEW.

LUCKILY, HIS OLD APARTMENT WAS STILL AVAILABLE SO I MOVED RIGHT IN.

THIS VIEW ISN'T SO BAD.

DON'T WORRY. WE INVITED LOTS OF BUMS - SOME OF MY RELATIVES AND A BUNCH OF YOUR MOTHER'S OLD BOYFRIENDS!

WOW! SHE LOOKS JUST LIKE SHE DID ON THE DAY I DIDN'T MARRY HER.

WHO ARE THOSE GUYS SHE'S TALKING TO?

ALL RIGHT.

Lastly, I promise if we ever run over a hitchhiker together, I'll keep my mouth shut... again.

I CAN'T BELIEVE IT. WE'RE FINALLY MARRIED!

DON'T REMIND ME.

THAT WAS LOVELY. I NOW PRONOUNCE YOU Man and Wife.

Just think, if it wasn't for scotch and sambuca, we'd never be here.

Description

You'll have to rack your brains to think up a more titillating gift for the man (or woman) who has everything — but bosoms! Pamela Anderson's loss was your gain when she said "Tah-Tah!" to her ta-tas: Made popular on TV, made famous in homemade porn with Tommy Lee and, according to the underside of the left one, made in Taiwan, you are bidding on the actual implants that resided inside Ms. Anderson's bust until their removal in April of 1999. An extremely rare, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to own a two-of-a-kind treasure! Jugs of fun for the Pam Anderson fan, the Baywatch aficionado, or just about anyone who wants to feel like a VIP! Both latex implants are filled with silicone jelly, and are equally at home in the showcase of the serious collector as they are re-installed in a flat-chested new owner. Or, for the tailgate-partier with a flair for entertaining, once frozen, each former bosom will keep an entire 30-gallon cooler of beer cold for hours while providing an excellent conversation piece your guests can stare at and touch without fear of being smacked! (Implants to be auctioned as a set. If bidder wants only one, we suggest he pool resources with a like-minded bosom buddy.) Both are in excellent condition. Comes with Certificate of Authenticity signed by Ms. Anderson and before/after/after-after photos. Proceeds benefit the Boobs for Bimbos Foundation.

1 MARTHA STEWART'S RECIPE FOR COOKING HER OWN GOOSE

Start with one queen of crafts and kitchen and her friend, the president of a hot pharmaceutical company. Add one phone "tip" saying the company's new drug is about to be rejected by the FDA and the company's stock will tank. Set this insider trading mix aside. Now, prepare a tossed salad of denials, obfuscations and non-cooperation with federal regulators and stir in a boiling mad appearance on CBS' Early Show. Let the entire stew simmer while the queen's roughly $48,000 savings on the ill-timed stock sell-off becomes a murky broth of declining sales for her magazine and a personal loss of tens of millions of dollars in her own company's stock price. Try serving this bad-tasting concoction to the American public, or better yet, make it the basis for a whole new magazine.

DEAD LETTER OFFICE: THE INS SENDS VISAS TO 9/11 TERRORISTS

What can we say about a government agency charged with protecting our borders that actually invites terrorists into our country? That it's incompetent? Stupid beyond description? A threat to national security itself? But perhaps we're being too hard on the Immigration and Naturalization Service — after all, the September 11th hijackers they issued student visas to were already dead and in no position to harm us (again). Besides, in the wake of this embarrassing scandal, the INS has promised sweeping changes. We can just imagine what those boneheads have in store...

3 MIKE TYSON KNOCKS HIMSELF OUT

Mike Tyson once had it all: a thriving career, a beautiful wife, fabulous riches and even a semblance of his sanity. But somewhere along the way, poor squeaky-voiced Mike took a few too many blows to the head, and his life turned into the most ridiculous boxing saga since Rocky V. This year, Tyson attacked Lennox Lewis at a press conference announcing their fight, but then inexplicably failed to attack him during their actual fight. In fact, "Iron" Mike was so thoroughly humiliated, his boxing career is effectively over. We're guessing he won't be able to reinvent himself as a cuddly, George Foreman-style infomercial pitchman, but the results will sure be entertaining if he tries!

THE ANNA NICOLE SHOW: REALITY TV GOES BUST

Just when we thought Reality TV couldn't get any more freakish than The Osbournes, more shameless than The Bachelor or more revolting than Fear Factor, along comes The Anna Nicole Show to surpass all three. The former Playmate and trophy wife has seen better days — just like E!, which is eagerly exploiting the bloated trailer trash heiler to boost its perpetually pathetic ratings. One thing's for certain about this train wreck of a TV show — Anna Nicole has forever redefined the term "boob tube."

FOX: MUST-FLEE TV

They may be trailing pathetically in the Nielsen ratings, but when it comes to shameless, exploitative, low-brow supercrap, FOX leads the pack by a wide margin. With a history of such reality TV "classics" as Who Wants To Marry A Multimillionaire, Temptation Island and, most recently, American Idol (think The Gong Show minus the class), these days a FOX programmer's biggest challenge is to create a show that sinks to even deeper, more fetid lows than the shite they've already aired. It's a near impossible task, but we're confident the geniuses at FOX are up to the task.

6 THE ISRAEL/PALESTINE CONFLICT: TWO WRONGS MAKE A FIGHT

Like a real-life version of our own Spy Vs. Spy gone horribly awry, the leaders of Israel and Palestine seem forever engaged in an incredibly deadly game of one-upmanship. Every so often a cease-fire is agreed upon, and occasionally it lasts as long as the average Oscar telecast. Then the violence resumes, with Sharon blaming Arafat, and Arafat blaming Sharon. So who could blame the rest of the world for growing weary of this Unending Series of Unfortunate Events — more unfortunate than any event Lemony Snicket himself could ever dream up?

7 CORPORATE CORRUPTION: WHITE-COLLAR SLIME

Where to begin? With the scumbag executives at Enron? The lying, sniveling weasels at Arthur Andersen Accounting? The stinking, steaming pieces of dung at Merrill Lynch and the other brokerage houses of ill-repute? The incompetent financial "experts" who advised everyone to invest their life savings in a rigged stock market? And don't even get us started on WorldCom, Tyco, Halliburton or our beloved parent company, AOL (GAK!) Time Warner. You want a financial tip? Invest in companies that make prison uniforms! Because if there is any justice in the universe, every one of these reprehensible, immoral corporate SOBs will spend the rest of their ugly lives rotting in an 8 x 10 dank prison cell. Thanks to them, we now know what the "K" in 401K stands for: kaput! And what's the dumb thing? That we bought into their corrupt game to begin with!

OLYMPIC FIGURE SKATING: THE AGONY OF DECEIT

The Olympics have a long and storied tradition dating all the way back to ancient civilization – just like corruption. So it shouldn't have surprised anyone when it was discovered that a French judge took a bribe to throw the gold medal the Russian skaters' way. Ultimately, the scandal involved high-ranking Olympic committee members, the Russian mafia and, according to at least one conspiracy website, the official Olympic mascot Powder, the snowshoe hare. The end result of the whole mess was that a second set of gold medals was created for the shafted Canadian team, a solution even more awkward and precarious than anything in the "award-winning" Russian routine.

9 THE COLOR-CODED WARNING SYSTEM: HOMELAND INSECURITY

As far as we can tell, the only thing that Tom Ridge has done since becoming our first Homeland Security Chief is come up with a convoluted, ineffective and largely ignored color-coded terrorist warning system. Like a nation-wide game of "Twister," we were supposed to somehow respond based on Tommy's choice of pigment. The system was met with cries of "Huh?" and "Ooooh, that's pretty!" Of course, both of those comments came from the President himself, but the rest of the public was a tad less impressed. After all, what can you tell from a selection of just five colors? Even Lucky Charms gets eight! For the multitude of threats facing us, we obviously need more colors than you can find in a J. Crew catalog. We're sure it's only a matter of time until Ridge agrees — and hopefully, Ridge is on their mailing list!

For years, the Catholic Church has been warning us about the societal dangers to our nation's youth. Who knew that the biggest danger to kids came from their own perverted priests, who were more interested in the body of altar boy Timmy than the body of Christ! The sickeningly smug bishops and cardinals, such as Boston's Cardinal Bernard Law, made the disastrous situation even more disastrous with their loathsome policy of "deny, deny, deny," while quietly shipping the horny "holy men" from unsuspecting parish to unsuspecting parish. Warning to all altar boys: next time a priest advises you to "turn the other cheek," run.

11 BASEBALL STRIKES OUT: A MAJOR LEAGUE DISASTER

There may not be many knuckleballers left in baseball, but judging by the way everyone associated with the league behaved this year, there's no shortage of knuckleheads. Our nation's pastime appears to be in even more trouble than our nation's economy. Things have gotten so bad that the San Francisco Giants apparently needed to make ends meet by running a day-care program during the World Series! And instead of addressing the real problems, Major League Baseball will probably just scheme up more gimmicks like bobblehead doll giveaways and "Fan Appreciation" nights to distract us. In fact, if you listen closely, you can hear the ominous sound of Thunderstix in the distance...

JOHN ASHCROFT'S TIPS: AIN'T LIFE A SNITCH?

Question: what's the best way to protect our freedom-loving way of life from terrorists? Answer: strip us of our civil liberties! Such is the nonsensically un-American thinking of Attorney General John "Big Brother" Ashcroft. His "Terrorism Information and Prevention System" — better known as TIPS — would have turned ordinary citizens like your cable guy into a government-sponsored peeping Tom who would report back to the feds with any "suspicious" behavior — say, for example, if he caught a glimpse of you engaged in the highly subversive act of preparing a tabooli salad. Thankfully, TIPS never really got off the ground because even Ashcroft's lunatic right wing cronies thought it was too extreme.

Hey Ashcroft, here's a tip for you: read the Constitution.

PENTHOUSE'S DOUBLE FAULT: THE ANNA KOURNIKOVA NUDE PHOTOS

June's issue of Penthouse trumpeted exclusive topless photos of hot tennis babe Anna Kournikova. A publishing coup of this magnitude could send sales skyrocketing, especially amongst internet smut freaks who till now had to make due with poorly-doctored pictures of Kournikova's head on someone else's (usually a woman's) naked body. (Joke: How can you tell a picture of Anna Kournikova is phony? If it shows her winning at Wimbledon, it's a fake!) But in a cruel twist of fate, it turned out the photos of Kournikova weren't Kournikova. Penthouse publisher Bob Guccione was sued and forced to issue a limp apology to both women. For once, it was nice to see "The Gooch" as the one caught with his pants down. Nonetheless, we'd also like to see an apology to his readers for over 30 years of other Penthouse misdeeds.

PENTHOUSE

THE MAGAZINE OF SEX, POLITICS, AND PROTEST

Dear Penthouse Reader:

It has come to our attention, as this issue goes to press, that the photographs we published in the June issue of Penthouse, which we described as being of tennis star Anna Kournikova sunbathing topless on a public beach, are, in fact, pictures of another woman. We deeply regret this unintentional error and offer heartfelt apologies to both women.

While we're at it, we at Penthouse would also like to apologize for the following transgressions:

- Trying to pass ourselves off as a magazine of even marginal social importance when, in fact, we're nothing more than whacking material for bored truck drivers.
- Charging $7.99 an issue — when 3/4 of it is nothing but ads for penis enlargers, sex toys, phone sex companies and badly made porno movies.
- Punishing readers with 25 years of "advice" from Xaviera, an obese former hooker whose star should have faded when her first unreadable book landed in the remainder bin at Barnes & Noble.
- Going hardcore and trying to justify it by calling it "freedom of sexual expression." Our sales were plummeting, we were desperate — and we'd like to apologize for the entire ugly mess. Especially that whole peeing thing. We don't know how that got started and, frankly, we don't want to know.
- Printing offensive jokes by Howard Stern lapdog Jackie Martling that were ancient when Eisenhower was president, and then labeling them "topical humor."
- All the other ridiculous mistakes we're sure to make between now and when we finally go bankrupt — which, judging from the books, won't be that long from now.

Sincerely,

Bob Guccione

JAYSON WILLIAMS' FOUL SHOT

In his NBA playing days, Jayson Williams was known as an awful shooter, and obviously that's still the case. While giving a tour of his mansion, the onetime New Jersey Net was drinking heavily and twirling a loaded shotgun (like any good host). When he accidentally fired at and killed a chauffeur, he drew up a cowardly and despicable game plan to make it look like a suicide. But the indisputable evidence supports another theory: guns don't kill people; reckless, drunken, coddled multi-millionaire ex-basketball players kill people.

- Executing properly
- Keeping a cool head after you've taken a bad shot
- Getting spectators involved in the action
- Carrying out a game plan when you're up against the clock
- Avoiding a charge

So come and join us at the Jayson Williams Basketball Camp, where the emphasis is on building a strong defense and — depending on how things play out — rebounding!

15 R. KELLY: I BELIEVE I CAN LIE

The art of the celebrity denial in the face of mounting criminal evidence was elevated to creepy new heights this year by R. Kelly. The R+B star insisted the videotape showing him doing the "bump n' grind" with a 14-year-old was a fake and that he had no interest in underaged hotties. Never mind that he married Aaliyah when she was the ripe old age of...um, 15. Never mind that he quietly settled out of court with two other youngsters who claimed he coerced them into having sex with him. And never mind that still more adolescent girls have come forth with similar accusations. It's all a pack of lies — listen to the message in his music, Kelly tells us. You got it, scumbag!

AMERICA WEST AIRLINES: HIGH IN THE SKY

May we have your attention readers, this is your editor speaking. Please fasten your seatbelts, as we will be going over the rocky, turbulent story of two America West Airlines pilots who, in July, made an unannounced layover at a local watering hole just hours before planning to fly 124 passengers from Miami to Phoenix. If you look carefully, you will notice the irresponsible flight attendants who didn't notify the authorities about the highly-fueled aviators. You might also observe the uncharacteristically vigilant airport security people reporting the soused pilots as they stumble aboard the plane. Guns in the cockpit? How about breathalyzers? Please notice that we have turned on the "No Fooling" sign. We ask you to remain seated until our satiric commentary comes to a complete stop.

STUPID NET TRICKS: THE DAVID LETTERMAN/TED KOPPEL SAGA

Forever inept at coming up with a successful entertainment show for the crucial 11:30 PM time slot, ABC has long been dependent on Nightline to garner respectable, if not large, ratings in the late night Nielsens war — even if the bulk of the audience was made up of the "over-50" demographic. Determined to attract a younger audience, the network courted the perpetually underachieving David Letterman. They attempted to lure the gap-toothed clown from CBS, while the publicly humiliated Ted Koppel seethed at the prospect of being replaced by a goofball with half his intelligence. The funny thing is, last we checked, Letterman was still stuck at CBS and Koppel was still pissed at ABC. Even so, we can't help but wonder how Dave would have changed his act had he gotten the ABC gig...

TED WILLIAMS: FROM THE BATTER'S BOX TO THE ICE BOX

Ted Williams may have been the last baseball player to bat .400, but when it comes to ridiculously bad ideas, his son, John Henry, is batting a thousand. No sooner had the Splendid Splinter been ejected from the game of life, than the junior Williams implemented the less-than-splendid plan to cryogenically freeze the old-timer. The theory was that the slugger's DNA should be preserved for future generations. (Frankly, we'd rather see his pre-juiced-ball-era hitting statistics live on.) We can only imagine how this half-baked (or yet to be defrosted) idea will be acknowledged at Cooperstown...

FROM WHAT DEADLY THREAT DOES THE
SECRET SERVICE REMAIN
HELPLESS TO PROTECT THE PRESIDENT?

HERE WE GO WITH A SPECIAL EDITION MAD 20 FOLD-IN

In these deadly and uncertain times, with threats from Osama, Al Qaeda, home grown kooks and even opposing party zealots, the Secret Service must be on their toes more than ever to protect our Commander in Chief. But even with all their diligent planning and weaponry, it is clear that the President is not completely safe. To find out what this most deadly threat is, fold page in as shown.

THREATS CAN COME FROM OUT OF NOWHERE IN THESE TROUBLED TIMES. OUR SECRET SERVICE CAN PREVENT MANY DANGERS, BUT NOT ALL OF THEM. MOST-LY, THEY WAIT AND WATCH WITH UTMOST
ZEAL TO PROTECT THE PRESIDENT FROM EVERY EVIL

Duke Bissell's TALES OF UNDISPUTED INTEREST

IT WAS MY BIRTHDAY AND MY COUSIN GAVE ME A FREE LIFETIME TRIAL GIFT CERTIFICATE FOR SOMETHING CALLED SUBCONSCIOUS REGRESSION THERAPY.

WHEN I SHOWED UP IT TURNED OUT THAT THE PSYCHIATRIST WAS MY COUSIN.

FOR THE SECOND SESSION WE WENT ON A FIELD TRIP.

UNCLE STAN INSISTED YOU WERE A MISERABLE LITTLE WORM AND WANTED TO PUSH YOU OFF THIS CLIFF.

MY COUSIN COULDN'T MAKE IT TO THE THIRD SESSION BUT HE HAD ONE OF MY OTHER RELATIVES COVER FOR HIM.

I'LL GIVE YOU A BREAK BECAUSE GROWING UP WITH SOMEONE LIKE ME AS A FATHER MUST HAVE BEEN PURE HELL, BUT TO TELL THE TRUTH I ALWAYS WISHED YOUR MOTHER HAD USED A BETTER FORM OF BIRTH CONTROL.

SOON I REALIZED THIS KIND OF THING JUST WASN'T FOR ME.

YOU KNOW IF I HAD AN UNTRACEABLE ILLEGAL HANDGUN I'D SHOOT YOU

IN THE END, I PUT THE BALANCE OF THE CERTIFICATE TO GOOD USE.
